

Bioceramics Area LEADER – research division

I. Requirements

1. Doctorate (PhD) degree in the field of materials engineering and 5 years of experience in Research and Development, including independent conduct of research projects (experience in leading R&D projects).
2. At least 5 years of experience in bioceramics manufacturing and 2 years of experience in human team management.
3. Publication record (at least 10 publications included in the ISI Master Journal List).
4. Experience in the certification and marketing of medical devices.
5. A working knowledge of PN/EN ISO 13485.
6. Conversational English.

II. Required documents

1. Application for the position stated above.
2. Curriculum Vitae (CV).
3. Documents certifying that the applicant has the required education.
4. Documents certifying that the applicant has 5 years of experience in Research and Development, including independent conduct of research projects (experience in leading R&D projects).
5. Documents certifying that the applicant has experience in human team management.
6. Documents certifying that the applicant has knowledge of ISO 13485 Quality Management System requirements.
7. Publication record (ISI Master Journal List).
8. Copies of employment record or certificate of employment specifying the period of employment if the applicant is currently working.
9. Copies of documents certifying the applicant's knowledge of English or the applicant's self-declaration of knowledge of English.
10. Declaration of consent to personal data processing for recruitment purposes and acknowledgement of the information notice available at:
www.icimb.pl/o-instytucie/polityka-prywatnosci/obowiazek-informacyjny